

Hi, I'm Sam

I'm the Queensland Program Manager and have had the pleasure of working with Autistic people for nearly 10 years now - and I never want to stop. I'm passionate about people's stories and advocating for those stories to be heard. That passion is what led me at first to study Law and English literature, and now Psychology. I genuinely love working in this space and I hope to continue that by one day establishing an Autism-focused allied health clinic with a neurodiverse staff.

Hi, I'm Max

I'm 20 years old and I am a university student studying Property Economics. I'm very proud to be a part of the I CAN team because I am able to work with like minded students on the spectrum and discuss how we can succeed!

Hi, I'm Ella

I'm a politics, philosophy and economics graduate currently pursuing a PhD. I have worked with children and young people in various capacities since my teenage years and I have especially enjoyed working with autistic children since long before I received my own diagnosis as an adult. I love working for I CAN as it gives me the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of young people just like me!

Hi, I'm Evangeline (but my friends just call me Eve!)

I'm currently finishing my final year of a Bachelor in Primary Education. I love working for I CAN because my pedagogical practice centres on providing support for diverse learners, particularly those who face similar challenges to those I encountered as an Autistic student, diagnosed in Grade 3.

Hi, I'm Ellie

I'm 20 years old and studying a Bachelor of Science with an extended major in Biomedical Science; working towards studying medicine from 2023. I have autism and ADHD, and have spent years pushing through many challenging scenarios and am at a stage in my life where I can empathise with and help other young Autistic people in my role at I CAN.

Hi, I'm Eban

I'm studying psychology, with the hope of specializing in working with adolescents. I'm proud to work for I CAN because I didn't have access to a program like it when I was younger so I want to help give other Autistic children better opportunities.

Hi, I'm Arthur

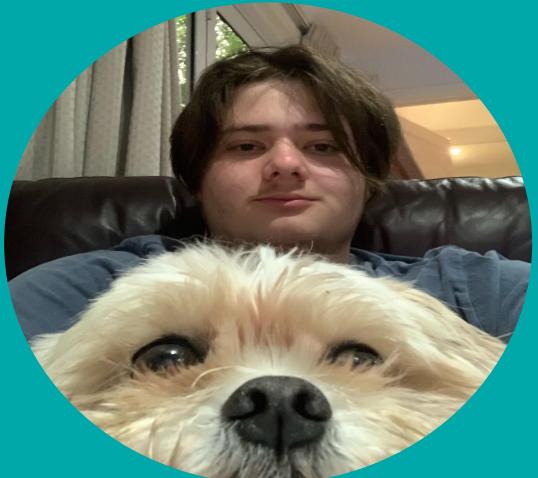

After some time working in libraries, including school libraries across all year levels, I began work as a Mentor with I CAN in 2018. I have a passion for creative writing, video games and anime. I am also openly LGBT+ and love helping LGBT+ Autistic mentees develop strong sense of self-esteem and identity.

Hi, I'm Angel

I am a proud Autistic person with ADHD. I am currently studying a Bachelor of Science with an extended major in Microbiology. After being diagnosed as an adult and finally understanding myself, it has changed my life in the best possible way. I needed a program like I CAN when I was younger and I am proud to be able to give the opportunity to other Autistic young people to understand themselves and their strengths.

Hi, I'm Hayden

I'm 18 years old and have been with I CAN Network as both a student in the program and now a paid mentor myself. Currently, I'm doing a Diploma of Website Development and a Diploma of Database Design at TAFE Qld, but I have been a hobbyist Game Developer since a young age. I CAN has helped me become so much more sociable than I otherwise would have been and I hope to help other students go along the same road.
